

Furnishing Imagination

A modern, minimalist living room with large windows, a grey sofa, a blue armchair, and a round coffee table with a vase of white roses. The room features a light-colored wall and a grey carpet. The windows are framed by dark wood panels with a herringbone pattern. The text is overlaid on a semi-transparent white rectangle in the center of the image.

We are committed to providing exceptional service to clients across a broad range of projects, from award winning hotel brands and restaurants to casinos and resorts around the world.

Where it Began

In 1984, George Tsai started Fairmont Designs in an empty Los Angeles warehouse containing two folding chairs - one used as a makeshift desk. The young man had already earned an undergraduate degree in engineering from Cornell, a master's degree in engineering from UC Berkeley, and completed a stint at Procter & Gamble.

What prompted the entrepreneur to embark on such a venture was seeing his father struggling to produce tables for West Coast importers. George decided he wanted to establish a business where he could be more autonomous and control his own destiny.

Knowing nothing about the industry, he learned quickly by attending San Francisco Home Furnishings Markets and consulting industry veterans. He called on experts in product development, merchandising, and marketing to create initial dining room and table groups, an important import arena at the time. The line expanded, the company thrived, and Fairmont Designs established manufacturing facilities in China & Vietnam for total vertical integration.

Today, Fairmont Designs has grown into a multinational enterprise; producing and distributing a wide range of contract furnishings known for craftsmanship, quality and value.
